OUR READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS

Embody three great requisites which have earned for this house the enviable reputation it enjoys today.

Quality, Style, Fit

Each garment, regardless of price, is selected with great care and must come up to our exacting requirements before it is accepted by us. The result is our suits and coats are in every way the equal of the finest custom-made wearthings; a certain exclusiveness of design characterizes them that is peculiar to our garments.

At $25 and $35

We offer tomorrow and the rest of the week a particularly beautiful lot of tailored suits, replete with new style touches of the present fall and winter seasons. They are superior to many suits priced at $40 and $50.

SEPARATE COATS $15, $17.50, $20 and $25

New arrivals in full length Kersey, Broadcloth and Grayish Mixtures Coats, half and full satin lined. These are all plain tailored models but cut in the latest circular effect around bottom.

Fur Sets and Fur Coats

We bought our furs before the present high prices went into effect, consequently we are in a position to offer fine black furs in genuine lynx and black fox at far less than prevailing quotations. As evidence of this we mention a few specials:

Genuine Black Pony Coats, 30 inches long at.....$25.00	Imitation Black Lynx Muffs.....$5.00 and $6.75
Genuine Black Pony Coats, 42 inches long at.....$50.00	Genuine Black Fox Fur Sets.....$25.00 to $50.00

PUBLIC SALE

Of Nice Residence Property On Saturday, November 6, 1909.

At 2:30 o'clock, p. m., on the premises on Mitchell avenue, in this city, I will, as Agent, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, the residence of Wick Simpson. The lot is 66x166 feet and lays well. It has on it a nice frame residence of 4 rooms, kitchen and small room for bath purposes, good stable for two horses, buggy house, smokehouse, etc., and is under good fence. There is also plenty of fruit and the residence is fitted for gas. It is well located, in nice neighborhood, and can be made one of the nicest homes in the city. At the same time I will sell a vacant lot adjoining, 46x166 feet, which is well adapted for building purposes. This is one of the best pieces of property which is to be had in Mt. Sterling and will either make a nice home or will pay excellent interest on the investment. Terms made known on day of sale and possession given within a few days. Don't forget the day and hour—Saturday, November 6, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., on the premises on Mitchell avenue. Will show the property at any time to prospective purchasers.

CURED BRONCHITIS

Mrs. Hopkins Says Her Life Was Saved--Choked and Gassed For Breath.

"Some five years ago I was taken with a bad attack of bronchitis. I was affected with a bronchial cough and cold, the cough was generally much more apparent at night, and I would wake up choking and gasping for breath, and there seemed to be a terrible stoppage in my throat and tubes. My throat was tender and irritable, and had an aching sensation, which was especially bad at times. I doctored and used several remedies, but received no permanent relief until I used Hyomei. This remedy is certainly infallible, and it saved my life, and I accord it the credit which it deserves. There is nothing too strong for me to say regarding Hyomei."—Mrs. Ada Hopkins, 8 Cutter Ave., Coldwater, Mich., August 22, 1908.

W. S. Lloyd sells Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) and he guarantees it to cure bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, croup, hay fever, coughs and colds, or money back. The price for a complete outfit is only $1.00, which includes a bottle of Hyomei and a neat hard rubber inhaler. 15 and 17

LICK'S FIRST LOVE AFFAIR

Future Millionaire Was Repulsed by Girl's Father Because of His Poverty.

There are many stories of the lighter side of finance in which love affairs find a place. Perhaps none of these is more peculiar than the story of James Lick, a name famous all over the world through a monument to his memory, the great Lick observatory, in California. In the financial world the great city of San Francisco is a monument to Lick's luck—He foresees the possibility of the great city of the Pacific slope, bought the land on which it now stands, and became a millionaire. Before that time the name of Lick was great in the musical world. Lick's pianos—out of which he made the money which he invested in land—were manufactured by him. But on the poetic side of life—a world apart from such things as piano-making, and mud-flats—the great Lick still stands as a monument to Lick's love. In early life James Lick sought the hand of a miller's daughter, but was repelled by the father on the ground that the young suitor did not possess a mill. Many years afterwards, when he had become one of the richest men in the states, he erected a large mill and adorned it like a palace. It was built of mahogany and costly woods, and erected solely as a memorial of his youthful attachment. His only pleasure was to contemplate this palatial mill and to gloat over the man who had spurned him for his poverty. —Harry Furness in the Strand.

LADY PASSENGER'S LOG

She Wanted to Be Sure Just What the Wind Should Be Called.

It was blowing rather hard, and there was a nasty sea on an hour and a half before the first breakfast bugle. An officer of the ocean liner hurried along the passage between the state-rooms, and a timid voice called to him:

"Oh, Mr. Officer, please stop."

He turned and saw a dear old lady with a wrapper thrown around her, peeping through her half-open door.

"Yes, madam," said the officer.

"Mr. Officer, please: would you call this a gale?" asked the old lady, anxiously.

"Oh! no, madam. There's not the least danger. I assure—"

"Well, is it half a gale?"

"Not even half a gale, and this is such an excellent sea boat that you needn't worry a bit," explained the officer.

"Well, what would you call it, please?" said the lady, steadying herself as the vessel rolled.

"Just a fresh nor-west breeze, madam, with a cross sea running. But, really, there's nothing to fear."

"Thank you so much. I just wanted to get it quite right in my diary, you know."

Empress Uses Typewriter.

It is related that in passing through her husband's library recently the attention of the empress of Japan was attracted to a peculiar-looking machine. On learning that it was a typewriter, and having it explained to her, she became interested and began to hit the keys. Now, it is said, she does a good deal of correspondence for the emperor.

It is further reported that Queen Alexandra of England, Queen Maude of Norway, the carina and the queen of Portugal are all fond of using the typewriter in corresponding with their intimates.

It is probable that all of them put together do not use the machine as much as Carmen Silva, the queen of Romania, who rattles her poems and stories on a typewriter.—St. Nicholas.

Treating Tree Wounds.

Plastic slate, that is to say, moldable slate, is a mixture formed by combining about one part of coal tar and four parts of slate dust and is recommended for covering large wounds in trees. This mass must be about the consistency of a not too thick glazier's putty, so that it can be balled and rolled out in the hand. Slate dust can easily be made by crushing small pieces of slate. The mass sticks to wood, to metal, to stone, and in fact to everything that is not greasy and closes every opening airtight.—Scientific American.

Did as He Was Told.

Some years ago the Yankee schooner Sally Ann, under command of Capt. Spooner, was beating up the Connecticut river. Mr. Comstock, the mate, was at his station forward. According to his notion of things the schooner was getting a "leech" too near certain mud flats which lay along the harbor shore, so aft he went to the captain and with his hat cocked on one side said:

"Cap'n Spooner, you're getting a leech too close to them flats. Haddn't ye better go about?"

The captain glared at him. "Mr. Comstock, jest you go forward and tend to your part of the skuner. I'll tend to mine."

Mr. Comstock went forward in high dudgeon.

"Boys," he bellowed out, "see that ar mud hook's all clear for lettin' go!" "Ay, ay, sir!"

"Let go, then!" he roared.

Down went the anchor, out rattled the chains, and like a flash the Sally Ann came luffing into the wind, and then brought up all standing. Mr. Comstock walked aft and touched his hat.

"Well, cap'n, my part of the skuner is to anchor."—Bluejacket.

Scarcity of Humor. It is to be feared that if the papers reserved a special corner once each week for the witticism of the week, it would be often left blank. There is no wit to speak of to-day, only a feeble imitation of it which people are fond of calling the saving sense of humor. —London Saturday Review.

Forcing the Child.

Do not force a child unduly to practice the piano, lest it acquire a distaste for the study, which both child and parent may bitterly regret in later years, says Woman's Life. It is little short of a crime to compel any form of study in a child even though it happens to have a natural talent for a particular art.
